Third Session Of the Scout Leaders Training Course At "Gatcombe's"

"Good Till the Last Drop." That is what local Scouters said of the Saturday-Sunday "Third Session," of the Leaders' Training Course in which they are participating.

Present were Theodore Sylvester, George Robishaw, Laurence Plummer, Miles Sawyer, H. E. Crozier, C. A. Monteith, Albert Huntley, Wilbur Senter, Harold Whitehill, Rockland; Willis Munroe and Sandy Adams of Camden.

Scheduled to start at 2 p. m. Saturday, Leaders were coming and going, to and from Gatcombe's Campground as their personal schedules permitted, dampened in clothing, but not in spirits.

Early arrivals laid out the camp, erected tents, dug latrines, gathered firewood, and carried water. Beds were made, provisions stored, and finally the campfire lighted for cooking and all night warmth, with aid of a reflector.

Each Scout tried out his pet theory in cooking both in the manners and dish. Biscuits were baked in a homemade "reflector oven," meat, potatoes, onion and bacon pressure-cooked in sheets of aluminum foil, steak sizzled in fry pans, coffee brewed over open fire, and many other taste-tempting dishes prepared and quickly consumed by the hungry Scouters as part of the course.

After the evening "jam session" on knots, and other ideas for building a Scout program, which lasted well into the night, all turned in, or "tuned in," for nothing but an occasional snore was heard from the group till 8 a. m.—then reveille, by arrival of an inspecting Scouter.

Breakfast of fruit, bacon, eggs, doughnuts, and coffee was soon over. Classes on hiking methods, and safety; knife and axe use and care; compass orienteering; judging of height and distance; and fire building and cooking occupied the morning hours.

The noon meals were soon "out of this world," and the final duty of all Scout Campers followed—that of camp clean-up, and breaking camp. And if there is any doubt in your mind whether the Scouters enjoyed this session of a Training Course, just ask your favorite Scout Leader in person, for he was there.

The committee wishes to thank Fred for the use of his facilities to make this the success it was.

Rush For Seats

All Reserved Seats Sold For Camden's Thanksgiving Night Show

Broadway comes to Camden Opera House Thanksgiving Night, when the National Drama Guild presents "Three Men on a Horse," the riotous comedy about "Erwin," the little man who somehow can pick the winners.

Curtain time is 8 p. m., and a big crowd is expected. The play will benefit the Camden-Rockport Lions Club Crippled Children's Fund, and airman Vernon Packard announced last night at the Lions meeting that all reserved seats have been sold. Rush seats are going very fast, and more chairs may be added to the auditorium.

Wallace Acton, star of the play, has won acclaim for his portrayal of "Erwin" both on and off Broadway. The cast is recruited from Broadway through the American Theatre Wing, which is encouraging the production of top-notch plays in the small communities throughout the country. This cultural project has won wide attention the past year.

Erwin Trowbridge, little unassuming man, finds himself without expectation and against his will, in a position of grandeur and importance. He is as diffident a little creature as was ever exploited by a grasping employer and bullied by his in-laws.

Every day he goes off on a bus to work—writing verses for greeting cards—and every day on the bus, for fun, he picks out the winners in the racing column and writes them down in a notebook. But one day Erwin kicks over the domestic traces and falls, notebook and all, into the hands of three tough gentlemen and a lady to match, who live by backing horses. And the fun begins.

Most of the fun is centered on the character of Erwin himself—his utter lack of interest in the happenings which are driving the others nearly crazy with excitement; his perpetual worry lest his escapade should lose him his job; his pathetic bewilderment when things go wrong, and his artless surprise when they go right.

Halls Were Surprised

St. George Couple Honor Guests At Party In the Grange Hall

Mr. and Mrs. True A. Hall of St. George were honor guests at a post-nuptial shower Wednesday night at the St. George Grange Hall given by Mrs. Marianne Skooglund, Mrs. Lillian Brown and Mrs. Faith Brown. There were 60 guests including neighbors, members of the Grange and friends.

The couple were completely surprised when they were met at the door by Frank Dowling of Rockland, master of ceremonies, who conducted them to the stage to the strains of the traditional wedding march played by Mrs. Skooglund. A radio program followed with the bride and groom being asked questions. They were presented many lovely gifts including money, linen, silver and china.

Following the opening of the gifts the group adjourned downstairs where an attractively decorated luncheon table was loaded with goodies. The centerpiece of the luncheon table was an 18 inch bride and groom dressed in crepe paper, complete to the boutonniere. Lunch was served by the boutonniere. Mrs. Marion Watts was in charge of the guest book.

HONORS FOR BILL SULLIVAN

Thirty Years' Service As Councilman and Basketball Coach Were Rewarded

At 6:30 Tuesday night the Thorne Hotel piano resounded to the strains of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," played by Mrs. Dana S. Newman and 85 persons united in singing that familiar song, as down the aisle came William J. Sullivan, escorted by Osgood A. Gilbert, general chairman of the testimonial banquet given in Mr. Sullivan's honor.

The occasion marked the conclusion of the latter's 30 years of service as a member of the Rockland City Council and the Rockland High School girls' basketball team. It was sponsored by the following working committee from Ward 5, the voting precinct so long and so ably served by the guest of honor:

Mrs. Ruth Sanborn, Mrs. Cheever Ames, Mrs. Pauline Bosse, Miss Gloria Witham, Mrs. Ruth Fogarty, John Richardson, William Koster, Donald Haskell, James Connellan, Arthur Doherty, Frederick Farnsworth, Gerald Margeson, Walter Morse and E. L. Brown.

The feast provided by the hotel had roast beef as its main dish, winding up with toothsome strawberry shortcake. The centerpiece at the head table was a most attractive combination of yellow flowers, contributed by Walter Morse.

The chorus singing was directed by Robert D. McCarty, with Mrs. Newman at the piano.

General Chairman Osgood A. Gilbert called the meeting to order, explained its purpose and introduced as toastmaster, Frank A. Winslow long time friend and associate of the guest of honor. Mr. Winslow presented as the preliminary speakers, former Mayors Edward R. Veazie, Charles M. Richardson, Edwin L. Brown, Laforest A. Thurston and Albert C. McLoon; E. Carl Moran, author of the new city charter and first chairman of the new City Council; Jesse Bradstreet, who succeeded Mr. Moran as chairman of the City Council; Osgood A. Gilbert, the present chairman of the City Council; and Frederick D. Farnsworth, city manager.

The tributes to Mr. Sullivan paid by all of these speakers were both eloquent and fitting, because they were spoken from the heart, and by men whose association with the guest of honor led extra might to the fine sentiments they expressed. Introducing Mr. Sullivan the toastmaster said:

"I come now to our guest of honor. So many of you call him 'Bill' that some of you may not know that his last name is Sullivan. I knew him first as a gangling High School boy playing first base on the varsity baseball team. "School days over I found him keeping books for M. B. & C. O. Perry down on Atlantic wharf. In the midst of those humble surroundings almost any other boy might have sunk into oblivion. But he showed such an active interest in sports that everybody knew him and when the concern moved to the heart of Main street his office

William J. Sullivan, who was accorded extraordinary honors.

Became a sort of clearing house for devotees of all kinds of games.

"Eventually he became coach for the High School girls' basketball team and then there placed Rockland on the map, with a claimant for State championship honors in a great majority of the 30 years he officiated. He rose to special heights the season that his girls beat Jimmy Connellan's Portland team in Spear block.

"His method of coaching was not the blustery, tough guy, kind so often resorted to by most coaches, but his softspoken words were commands not to be disregarded. I used to chide him for spending so many years with the kids, but what did he say?

"I had rather have the liking and respect of those young folks than all the other honors that sports can offer. And he certainly won both.

Between his office work, his coaching and his attendance upon many games Bill Sullivan has found time to take an active part in politics, so much so that he has been a member of every city government but one in 30 years. The man who had the distinction of beating him just once is here tonight. With that solitary exception the voters of Ward 5, including many Republicans, would have thought it sacrilege to support any other candidate for the city government."

Mr. Sullivan rose to acknowledge an ovation which lasted several minutes, and later to accept a gift from his friends and former basketball girls, gracefully presented by Postmaster James Connellan, a Ward 5 constituent and prominent local sportsman.

The women were content to remain a silent audience, but there were two exceptions, Mrs. Ruth Sanborn, neighbor and friend of Mr. Sullivan, who instigated the testimonial banquet; and Mrs. Phyllis Moran True, who was a member of the 1921 State championship basketball team.

Telegrams were read from two members of other famous teams—Dot Breen of Concord, N. H., and Gloria Witham, who is presently located in Providence.

Pictures were taken and everybody departed happy—none more so than the recipient of such a remarkable demonstration.

Tackles Bath Team

Nelson Semi-Pros To Meet Brooks' Chevrolet Here Dec. 4

Nelson Brothers semi-pro basketball outfit will open its season with Brooks Chevrolet of Bath at the Community Building Sunday, Dec. 4.

The Bath aggregation features Squeak Irish, Bub Smith and Harold Cornish, stars of the '47 Morse High Squad. The locals offer Don McLellan, Don Marsh, Bob Teel, Billy Holden, Bucky Murgita and Al Bartlett, all '47 tournament team members at Rockland High.

The Nelsons have whipped Camden Legion and Thomaston Legion in scrimmage sessions which brought out lopsided scores.

The first game offered in the afternoon will be between the Camden YMCA and the Rockland National Guard.

While there is a tentative game in the offing with the cadet squad of the Maine Maritime Academy, the date has not as yet been set, according to the Nelson management.

The locals are looking for better support at their games than was evident last year. In putting a well balanced team on the floor and playing the best teams in semi-pro circles in the State, they hope to attract more basketball fans to the Sunday afternoon games this year.

Local coffee drinkers who down anywhere from five to 20 cups a day, will be pleased to learn, that there will be no immediate shortage of their favorite beverage.

An English fisherman by the name of Rose was certainly entitled to the three perch he caught. When an airplane crashed on the opposite side of the river from where he was fishing this is what he did:

Stripped and swam 100 yards across the flooded river; ripped off a wing of the wrecked plane to release the pilot and a passenger; made first-aid splints from pieces of a fence; trotted one and a half miles in his underwear to get an ambulance; helped the ambulance men get the two injured men off to a hospital.

I have been taken to task several times for misnaming the date of the big November storm of 1898. Mrs. Mae Stanley of Friendship knows that it was Nov. 26, (the storm started that night) because she moved into her home that day.

THANKSGIVING

A single year, yet, step by step We have come by slow degrees To this day of thanks, and with hearts of praise Our Father's ear to please. The fairest things in this world of ours Have been free the whole year through, The blessings of health, the joys of life, His gifts to me, to you.

So, day by day along life's way Give thanks to our God above, Each morning and evening, each noon and night, For ourselves and for those we love. Thanks for the sunshine, thanks for the rain, And a prayer that thanksgiving be ours. Thanksgiving may die in the words that we speak. Thanksgiving lives on through the hours.

Farnsworth Museum

Beginning Friday Will Be Shown Works Which Are Heights Of Graphic Arts

Opening Friday at Rockland's Farnsworth Art Museum will be a selection of etchings, lithographs and engravings by old and modern masters in keeping with the season. Coming from the Boston Public Library's famed Wiggins Collection these prints represent the heights of graphic art achieved by Albrecht Durer, Lucas Cranach and Hans Sebald Beham in the sixteenth century in Germany and by Robert Austin, Arthur Heintzelman (curator of the Wiggins Collection), Jean Forain, Alphonse Legros and Carl Schultze in the twentieth century.

Profound reverence and full realization of the drama of the story of the Saviour characterize these works. At the same time the stamp of the different eras in which the pictures were produced is apparent to the observer, the more intricate approach of the 20th century contrasting with the formal treatment of the past.

This is the first of the museum's Christmas exhibitions and will be presented in the Square Gallery where books appropriate to the subject will also be displayed.

The beano game and turkey contest ended when the sponsor, Farnsworth Chapter, O.E.S. closed the doors with the sum of $68.70 in their little tin box. There was a large crowd at the game, the prizes being home-cooked food and other merchandise. Home-made candy was also on sale in charge of Delia Moore. Christmas Cards in boxes on sale. Esther Peabody in charge of those. The turkey contest was in charge of Mrs. Gertrude Ludwig who made the tickets and saw to the sale and after expenses were paid had $42 netted. The winner of the turkey was Mrs. Sidney Humes of Stickney Corner, wife of Selectman Humes. Now the public will know that Sid eats turkey on Nov. 24. The beano game was in charge of a general committee of the chapter members. Mrs. Gertrude Jones, the enterprising P.T.A. president, very kindly loaned the game belonging to P.T.A.'s to whom the chapter extends thanks. Mrs. Ludwig also wishes to say that her thanks goes out to everyone who bought tickets and aided in any way toward making the evening a success. ## A LONG DISTANCE HUNTER

Peter Smith Sees and Shoots His First Deer— Came From Shanghai To Do It

Somewhat of a record for traveling for an out of State hunter in Maine was established last week by Peter Smith, first officer on a Standard Oil Tanker in the Far East and brother-in-law of State Police Captain, J. Edward Marks.

Smith left his tanker at Shanghai and flew via Honolulu to San Diego and then to Augusta airport on regular airlines to join a hunting party in the North woods last week.

Although a native of Maine, he had never been deer hunting in his native State; in fact, had never seen a live deer. His travels about the world in recent years have taken him big game hunting in Africa and other sections and left an urge to hunt the woods of the Pine Tree State.

He got his deer near Hartland with a party composed of Ed Marks, Harold Mitchell and Cleo Hopkins, an eight point buck.

He left this week for Australia to join his ship, again by air to roll up a total mileage well in excess of 18,000 miles to draw a bead on a Maine buck.

New Deadlines Ahead

Concern The World War Veterans In Regard To Life Insurance

The first day of the new year will bring two deadlines for former service men and women in regard to National Service Life Insurance. First, the date will end the period in which ex-service personnel can apply for NSLI or for reinstatement of lapsed policies without a physical examination. Second, the same date will see stricter requirements for those applying for total disability income provisions.

Until the last day of this year, new insurance up to a $10,000 total may be taken out or lapsed policies renewed by veterans merely by showing satisfactory evidence of good health. The Veterans Administration announces that less than a total disability classification will be considered evidence of good health.

The income disability demands only a small additional premium and provides that the insured will receive $5 monthly per thousand of insurance in force should he become totally disabled for a period exceeding six months.

Further information may be obtained by veterans at the office of the Maine Division of Veterans Affairs in the Farnsworth office building in Rockland.

SOME CASCADE CONFLICTS

The "Bowling Mad" Island Town Sees Some Weird Results the Past Week

The battle goes on at the Cascade Alleys and after the tobacco smoke has cleared away and the dead (wood) removed the following results are apparent.

Wymies Worms didn't turn last Monday night and they lost a golden opportunity to tie everything up in the Major League. Everybody except the Ganders was rooting for Wymies' team to win, and it looked as if the Ganders themselves wouldn't have cared too much from the size of the score they turned in, but the Worms couldn't seem to get turning over and lost out by 38.

Harold Arey was the big surprise of the evening finishing well up with the leaders, just ahead of Brother Goose, and just behind Poole. If he can keep up the gait there will be no stopping the Ganders with three of the best bowlers on their team.

Wym Guilford was down quite a bit, a circumstance he attributed to the fact that he was dressed up and was bowling in fancy rubber boots. Another fact that most of the bowlers said accounted for their low scores was the big feed held at the Downeaster Inn before this match.

With 25 bowlers and guests at the tables there were some tall tales of past exploits on the alleys circulating in the atmosphere, which is just a polite way of saying there was a lot of hot air blowing. Three pieces of pie and two helpings of lobster newburg is more than the ordinary bowler can stow away and still carry sail. If Frankie Grimes engineered this big feast with the idea of it helping his team it certainly backfired on him at considerable expense.

Ganders: MacDonald 217; Young 226; Harey 276; Poole 278; Goose 271; total, 1268.

Wymies: Grimes 226; Rae 242; Drew 244; Mills 249; Guilford 269; total, 1230.

The woods were full of Legionnaires Tuesday night and the result was two six man teams fighting their way across the terrain in and around the Cascade Alleys. But one team was always on top and the other always on the bottom and never the twain did meet on equal terms.

Grindle's Grinds were off the beam some 79 pins when all the scores were totted, but at that several members of his team found consolation and satisfaction in the result. Clyde Poole for instance, who was fast getting a reputation as the world's worst bowler found that there were three other men who turned in lower scores than he, while Bob Johnson and Gee McHeenan both had the honor (?) of beating their opponent.

"Crow" Johnson continues to show his winning ways, pulling his team-mates along by the seat of their pantaloons, his 303 for total and 114 for high single, being a great cause for wonderment to them and a great source of annoyance to the opposition.

With the plethora of bowlers that the Legion seems to command, there is always a waiting list and that makes for new faces in the lineup every week, adding to the uncertainties of life in general and of Legion bowling in particular.

Grindle's "Grinds"—B. Grindle 235; R. Johnson 241; G. McHeenan 215; G. Poole 216; J. Webster 217; M. Pendleton 246; total, 1370.

Johnson's "Crows"—V. Johnson 303; W. Bunker 209; V. White 206; A. Hood 229; D. York 220; C. Smith 282; total, 1449.

The Pirates with the aid of "substitute" Lyford, boarded the Ganders last Friday night and swept the deck with them giving them the worst drubbing they have received for the whole season. With the demand for his services at a peak Walt Lyford is in a position to cash in on his popularity, for in both his last two appearances Walt has been up with the top scorers. It remains only for the Ganders to use him as a "sub" and he will have made the circuit of the three teams.

Poole was high with his 117 best for single and 299 for total but Lyford was right on his heels to offset him. The fact that Walt has been appearing as sub for some of the lesser light bowlers has stirred up quite a controversy as to his eligibility, and is a matter that the board of strategy will have to determine.

With this win the Pirates again tie for games won with the Ganders at 4 each with Wymies Worms crawling along in the rear with only 2 wins.

Pirates—Loveless 279; Peterson 265; Anderson 230; Lyford 294; Shields 287; total 1355.

Ganders—McDonald 198; Young 253; H. Arey 268; Poole 299; Goose 259; total 1277.

The Palefaces "The Galloping Ghosts" of Vinahaven bowling circles, are just about the hottest team in town, and seem to be taking everything in sight and looking for more teams to combat. On two successive nights they polished off the Red Men and the Unbeatables and have now posted a challenge directed at the high flying Ganders in which they say they will take on the Goose and his flock at any time the Ganders can find the time and the money.

And there are many who figure that the Ganders will need some money if they tangle with the Palefaces, for the Paleface scores have been consistently high. The father and son team of Stuart Davis, Senior and Junior, is back in the line up of the Palefaces and while the "Old Hoss" isn't quite what he used to be, "Young Hoss" can generally pull him through the rough spots. In taking over the Red Men, the Palefaces 1328 was a big margin over the Red Men's 1226, although Big Chief Dyer hit his best form of the season and came out head man on single and total and was greatly encouraged thereby.

Redmen—F. Dyer 287; Snowdeal 234; P. Dyer 225; F. Hamilton 262; Barter 218; total, 1226.

THE BATTLE OF THE CARDS

Spades and Diamonds Have Dogfight On the Lucky Strike Alleys

By Joe Talbot

The Ladies League, better known as the Fourflushers, is going very well this year, with a real dogfight between the Spades and Diamonds for top spot. Dora Packard returned to the roster of the Diamonds this week, in time to aid them in taking four points from the league-leading Spades and at present they are trailing them by just one point in the race. Dot Thomas rolled a 273 total to lead the Diamonds while Helen Crabtree hit 278 to lead the Spades.

The Hearts won their first five points of the season in slaughtering the Clubs by 111 pins. Captain Phyllis Brown returned to form the Palefaces upped their total score some but produced no big single strings, no doubt keeping their best figures under wraps in anticipation of the big challenge game with the Ganders. The Unbeatables had as an alibi the loss of two of their best bowlers, and there may be some justification in their claim that they can do, 75 pins better with their regular lineup. But at the present writing the name "Unbeatables" looks like a good tag for those white faced gentlemen who are beating the daylight out of everything they go up against.

Palefaces—S. Davis, Sr., 249; Conway 275; S. Davis, Jr., 284; Littlefield 262; Oakes 274; total, 1344.

"Unbeatables"—Loveless 262; C. White 251; Hamilton 278; Swanson 261; Snowdeal 209; total 1261.

with a 276 total and was helped greatly by a 281 total rolled by substitute Dot Wiley. Benny Whittier again led the Clubs with a 261 total. Captain Lil Richards was also present.

The Crusaders remained on top of the Belfast League by virtue of their fourpoint victory over the Ramblers, with Creamer leading the way with a 272 total. Best many for the Ramblers was one of the Smith boys who rolled a 292 total.

The Benders kept pace with the league-leaders by milking the Cows four points to one, as Captain Ralph Emmerton hit 305 for a total. Ernest Rumney was the best Cow, producing a total of 391 quarts—1 mean pins.

In spite of the fact that Captain Tom Aylward was absent this week, Tom's Lunch put up a real battle before succumbing to the league-leading Rockland Shellites four points to one as the Hotshot boys got together for their weekly bowlfest. Captain Bob Seliger finished with a 110 single and a 231 total, but was nosed out by the Luncheon substitute, Joe Bolduc, who finished with a 293 total.

The Legion had little trouble subduing the Rockport Boat Club, with Frank Parker leading the way by a 307 total. Fisher and Clayter tied with 271, to lead the Boatmen.

The Champion Aces turned back the challenging Clippers four points to one, in spite of a new record total set-up by Clipper Keith Richards. Keith had strings of 110, 127 and 124, to give him a grand total of 361. Leon Melvin and his 336 total was given a nice boost by Co-

Captain Jim Redman's 334 total and Tut Whittier's 323 total while the Clippers were giving no support at all to their ace anchorman. The Lucky Strike A's swept five points from the All Stars with "Slicker" Heal sailing along in fine fashion with a 324 total to lead the (Continued on Page Six)

The Weather

The promise for Thanksgiving Day is "fair and continued cold, also breezy." Lermond's Cove was frozen over (this Wednesday morning) but don't try skating on it. The dredger made it too deep.

Everett N. Hobbs of Hope who attended the Postmaster's Convention in Chicago and was there stricken with pneumonia, has returned home and is now suffering from a heart ailment.

The turkey which strutted its stuff in Newberry's window tipped the scales at 22 pounds and seven ounces. The bird passed into the possession of Percy Young who guessed nearest its weight.

Rev. Maldwyn V. Parry former pastor of the Congregational Church, and teacher in the Rockland schools, has resigned as pastor of the church in Jonesport, to serve as associate pastor of the South Congregational Church in Concord, N. H.

Captain Roswell F. Eaton, master of deep sea tow boats, is in dry dock at his Glen Cove home for a lay-up following major surgical repairs and overhaul. Capt. Eaton expects to put to sea again next Spring.

In Municipal Court

Charles Mason and Winslow Miller were bound over to the February term of Knox Superior Court Wednesday in $1000 bail, which both supplied. The pair had been confined in Knox County Jail since their arraignment Nov. 14 on charges of larceny of $1240 in cash from the home of Mrs. Doris Canty at 40 Water street in Rockland Nov. 13.

Due to Superior Court being in session, the cases were continued until Nov. 23 and bail set at $500. Neither was able to supply bail. Attorneys for the defendants waived hearing. Judge Dwinall found probable cause and ordered the men bound over to Superior Court.

William Daggett of Thomaston was freed of charges of illegally registering a deer shot the first day of the season. Complainant was Warden William Snow who alleged that Daggett had permitted a deer at which he had fired to be tagged by his 11-year-old son, who had also fired at the same animal with the same gun used by the father. Snow stated that he learned the deer was shot in late afternoon and that the boy obtained a license at 7:30 p. m. the same day. The deer was presented for registration the following morning.

A total of 109 University of Maine athletes received letters and numerals at the annual Fall athletic award banquet. Speakers included Dr. Arthur A. Hauck, president of the university; and Coaches David M. Nelson, Chester Jenkins, Samuel Sezak and Phil Jones. Members of the athletic board were guests at the banquet. Among those receiving awards was Charles M. Foote, Rockland, numeral in freshman football.

Between the Bookends

The Ten Greatest Novels In the World

W. Somerset Maugham once made the statement that young people of today would read the ten greatest novels of yesterday if the books were toned to their liking. The John C. Winston Company, publishers in Philadelphia, did something about this statement. They asked Mr. Maugham if he would undertake the task of selecting and editing the great masterpieces—bring the great books of the past down to the present. Mr. Maugham agreed to do it.

The ten volumes, although published separately are uniform in size and design. And each novel has been designed and edited for modern reading enjoyment, for unnecessary descriptions and cumbersome dissertations have been eliminated. The novels are:

Tom Jones, by Henry Fielding.
 Pride and Prejudice, by Jane Austen.
 Moby Dick, by Herman Melville.
 Wuthering Heights, by Emily Bronte.
 David Copperfield, by Charles Dickens.
 Old Man Goriot, by Honore De Balzac.
 The Red and the Black, by Stendahl.
 Madame Bovary, by Gustave Flaubert.

The Brothers Karamazov, by Fyodor Dostoevsky.
 War and Peace, by Leo Tolstoy.
 To each novel Mr. Maugham has written a critical and biographical introduction. Each book has been newly illustrated by a noted artist, who was selected by the publishers as being particularly sympathetic to the story. Retranslations have been made for the French and Russian novels.

Every serious high school pupil should make a serious pledge for herself or himself, "I'll own, one by one, these famous novels, heirlooms of our ancestors, that I'll hand down to posterity." (The John C. Winston Company, Philadelphia, $3.50 each. L. R. Fuller)

SERMONETTE

THANKSGIVING 1949

Yesterday all Maine folks sat at tables either in own homes or enjoying hospitality elsewhere. Whether rich or poor, in good or adverse circumstances, all had much to be thankful for to God.

Americans live in a land presently at peace with all the world, in a country where, whether Jew or Gentile, Catholic or Protestant or infidel, all may worship or not; and there is no one to molest them or make them afraid, or interfere, so long as they keep within the law and respect the rights of others.

This is alone a cause for Thanksgiving. In American this is called Freedom. To possess this right, forbears came to this country because in the old world millions had since died to maintain it. It is the greatest blessing ever vouchsafed to mankind. How, then, can so many eat, drink and be merry with such indifference to this great heritage?

The soil of every State in this Union is enriched with the blood and bodies of men who died that other millions, to the end of time, might have liberty as it is known here; and yet it is threatened as never since Columbus' Day. People ride in automobiles, crowding highways with danger of death, with little thought of the nation's peril.

How can it be preserved? Liberty has to be preserved or lost. Refusing to think about it or tossing it lightly into the future ends it.

Millions believe that God who so loved this world that He laid down a Holy Charter by which men could live in peace and freedom from enslavement and misery, has provided the means to this great end—not by might but by His Spirit.

Here is His charter as interpreted by His Son, in two Commandments: First, to love thy God with thy whole soul; and second, is like unto it, to love thy neighbor as thyself.

Thanksgiving this year has passed, but the cause for Thanksgiving remains—to keep in tune with the infinite Christ taught, God help us all.

HE IS TEACHING ADULTS

Long Fellow With the Gentle Ways Makes Progress In Tenant's Harbor Night School

If you happen to notice queer things going on among some of the soberer citizens of Tenant's Harbor these days, such as odd mutterings of "ishes" and "chays," and clutching motions in the air while frantically wriggling all 10 fingers, please don't call the nearest cop—nor does it have anything to do with it being National Arthritis Week.

These oddly acting folks are merely carrying out teacher's orders. They are conscientious students of the new night school now being successfully conducted every Monday and Friday nights from 6:15 through 9:30 at the High School building at Tenant's Harbor. Sixteen adults—who, by the way, include three school teachers and a selectman—gather on those evenings to take advantage of the courses which are offered in shorthand, typing and bookkeeping.

Most folks seem to have an urge to type, so it is not phenomenal that there are two classes in typing. Those enrolled are Ina Grant, Berton Ervin, Virginia Fay, Raymond King, Henry Bryant, Beulah Allen, Olivia Bryant, Marjorie Cook, Virginia Kinney, Grace Mills, Norma Lowell, Mary Davis, Marie Marriott, Beatrice Hupper, Josephine Harper and Clayton Hunnevell.

The shorthand addicts are Beulah Allen, Olivia Bryant, Marjorie Cook, Virginia Kinney, Grace Mills, Norma Lowell, Mary Davis and Marie Marriott.

The bookkeeping department is the smallest class, with the mere thoughts of debits and credits, capital and profits, enough to scare away all but the boldest. This class consists of Josephine Harper, Virginia Kinney, Grace Mills, Beatrice Hupper, and Marjorie Cook.

Everyone agrees they are fortunate in their teacher Arthur Frieder, who stands a mere Lincnesque 6 feet 5, and who wins his pupils' confidence with his easy, modern approach to this business of teaching. He doesn't even object to the munching of an apple in class, provided of course that the mind is kept alert.

After several classes of night school he was heard to make an epite remark. "I've come to the conclusion that teaching adults is not a bit different than teaching the kids," says Mr. Frieder.

LINGUA LATINA

(Or The Simplest Way To Go Crazy)
"O, Latin is a language
"As fine as fine can be;
"First it killed the Romans,
"And now it's killing me."

Quoted from the unpublished works of Watt A. Shortfellow.

People say, as well they should, That idle minds will do no good. But this, I say, is not the plight Of Latin students less than bright.

Our patient teachers strain their wits To send and keep us into fits, Assignments tedious and long Keep us from breaking into song.

The Latin textbook (does it smell!) Is popular with us as—well, If Medicos we plan to be We have to study it, ah me!

Now, folks, I'll cause you no more worry, To learn my Latin I must hurry. Because, while composing this poem so crummy I should be cramming my mental tummy.

So cross your fingers and hope and pray That I'll get nothing below an A! —Lois M. Cassens, R.H.S. '53.

Union Wins and Ties

Boys Hand Walker High a 49-22 Drubbing While Girls Tie At 29-29

Union basketball opened their season with Walker High of Liberty Monday night, the boys taking their game by a lopsided score and the girls tying up with the Liberty lassies.

Coach Kenoyer played his first squad in the town hall game only the first period and the last few minutes of the game as Union rolled over the Walker High lads. Going into the half time rest period, Union led by 27 to 8 and stretched that lead to 49-22 at the game's end. The subs carried a good part of the scoring during the game against the Walker first string outfit.

High scorer of the game was Ralph Knight who racked eight baskets from the floor and three from points for a total of 19.

The girls put on a fine exhibition of scrappiness as they overcame a 20 to 8 lead held by Walker at half time to roll up the points in the fourth period to lead 29-28 with a minute of play to go. A foul granted to Walker tallied and the game ended deadlocked.

attack. Substitute Basil Bryant bowled a very nice 341 total to fill in for the absent George Lacombe of the Stars. Captain Stevenson Marriner and Wadsworth hit the skids to fall far below the average they have been maintaining the recently. Warren "Kerosene" Colwell had to take the evening off, due to illness. Captain Burt wishes him a speedy recovery.

The Rangers captured a match for the first time this season and picked as the victims none other than the league-leading Lucky Strike B's, as the boys from the Independent League had their weekly get-together. Ralph Emmerton and High Mosher, a couple of recruits from the Belfast League, put the deadwood on the B's with totals of 313 and 305 respectively while Ames was the B's best man, having a 292 total. The loss didn't seriously affect the B's as they still retain a good lead over the second-place Rockets.

Captain Bunny Young was slightly terrific as he led the Rockets to a four point victory over the Giants. Bun had singles of 96, 130 and 105 to establish a new record-total of 331. Chet Leonard was the Giants' ace, rolling up a 294 total.

Looking Backward

This Time It Is a Resume Of Local Boy Scout History

Dec. 8, 1925, a troop committee consisting of A. W. Gregory, R. U. Clark and the Pastor of Pratt Memorial Methodist Church obtained a charter permitting a group of boys to unite into a Scout Troop under the leadership of William Milligan as Scoutmaster, later given aid by Alfred Pugh as Assistant Scoutmaster.

Since that time there have been the following 24 men signed as Troop Committeemen; and their years of service, not always consecutive, however:

A. W. Gregory, 5 years; R. U. Clark, 7 years; Geo. B. Orcutt, 3 years; Geo. W. Gay, 3 years; Chas. W. Schaller, 1 year; Harry P. Chase, 1 year; Charles Emery, 1 year; R. H. McRae, Sr., 1 year; A. S. Murray, 2 years; E. J. Sawyer, 7 years.

For a period of eight years no assistant was registered with the Troop, Junior Leaders doing their best to assist their Scoutmaster during this time, as always.

lose one of them—can't tell. The Camden girls journeyed to Skowhegan Sunday and returned with an eight-pin deficit after a very good match. Camden started out with a nine-pin lead in the first string and went into reverse in the second by four pins. Camden again took over the lead in the third, this time by thirteen pins. They dropped one pin in the fourth and, in the final string, faltered to lose it by twenty, giving the match to Skowhegan by eight pins. Beckwith was outstanding for Skowhegan, having a very nice 488 total, while Ames and Whittier were the mainstays of the locals, having totals of 478 and 452 respectively.

Matches in the near future include Waterville, Augusta, Ellsworth and Bangor. Watch for the dates. Notice to "Grapeshot" Stuber; Jake is looking for you.

Educational Club

Members Richly Entertained By Camden and Rockport Pastors

The Educational Club met Friday with Miss Marion Weidman, Rockport, Rev. F. J. Loungway was the 4 o'clock speaker and gave a splendid talk on "Does the Individual Count Any More," concluding with "Any Threadbare Coat We Pass on the Street May Easily Clothe a Knight in Shining Armour."

Rev. Mr. Small of Rockport Baptist Church held the close attention of those present with a talk on "The Contribution of Christianity to Education." He began with asking various members for a definition of Education ending by giving one found in a dictionary. He brought out illustrations of the impact of Christianity on Science, Mathematics, Art and Literature. Copies of paintings of noted artists produced soon after the advent of Christianity showing religious inspiration, were passed around.

He brought out the fact that the countries where Christianity had its earliest influence furnished the background of present day knowledge which had its foundation stones in the culture of Greece whose architecture, statuary and literature still have strong influence and Rome which gave us many of our laws, architectural ideas and literature. He pointed out, it being in Rome that the early Christians so courageously suffered persecution.

The greatest teacher of all time was Christ Jesus, he declared quoting from Matthew 5, the sermon on the Mount, which still has a strong influence on Christian living centuries later. He is of the opinion that if people of today put in practice the rules for conduct set forth in the sermon on the Mount and other parables and teachings of Jesus, many of the ills of present day civilization would be corrected.

In the open forum which followed religious education in schools was discussed. Bible reading without comment was advocated by some members and the repeating of the Lord's Prayer and Psalms, also. One member thought there should be religious instruction by some unbiased competent individual. Another was of the opinion that the selfishness of present day youth stemmed from lack of religious instruction.

Rev. Small explained how a religious program had been worked out in a small Maine city.

Associate secretary, Marguerite Gould.

ROCKLAND Film Council

Two vital films will be presented Nov. 30 at 7.30 at the Farnsworth Museum. These are "Children in Trouble," a March of Time presentation; and "Families First," a sequel to the first. These are absolutely free, as a service project of the Council, and every parent and teacher in Rockland and vicinity is invited. If more than the auditorium can accommodate come, a second showing will be made.

These two films were made for the New York State Youth Commission, and have been shown to over five million Americans. Dealing with causes, cost, and effective methods of prevention, as well as how to energize family life for a better America, these films show us typical families and youth of this modern America. These are not "free" film, but are presented by the Film Council, with no strings attached, as a service to our community.

Included in the shelf of Audio-visual materials at the local library is a new catalogue of the Encyclopedia Britannica Films, "the world's largest library of educational motion pictures and slide-films." You will remember that earlier this Fall there was reference in this column. In addition to films for all the grades from primary up through college, there are sections on Adult Education and on Foreign Language versions.

The Adult Education section includes arts and crafts, child development and education, home arts, man and his world, music, sports, and the world of science.

"The world's finest International Film Festival, which premiered just short of a million dollars worth of new motion pictures, climaxed the sixth annual International Workshop in Audio-Visual Education held at Green Lake (Wis.), Aug. 29 to Sept. 5, under the sponsorship of the International Council of Religious Education." This is the beginning of a two-page story on pages 4 and 5 of the October "Film News" at the local library.

Did you know that of the 200,000 to 250,000 churches, temples, mosques, synagogues, etc., represented in the latest issue of the Federal Council of Churches' year book, about 50,000 use 16mm projectors. This is one of the effective means of education, secular and religious alike.

Florence Mary Fitch's effective, interesting and fair book depicting the practices of Protestants, Catholics and Jews, entitled "One God—The Ways We Worship Him" is now in 16mm form, 37 minute long presentation. The biggest problem will be the rental, which is really moderate for this length new film. It is $10 a day, or $25 a week. Rockland ought to show this film some week to its organizations and schools and churches and synagogues. The $25 would probably do $1000 worth of brotherhood education. Lamb the essayist once remarked to a friend that the only reason he did not like a certain man was because he did not know him. There is certainly more than a grain of truth in that observation.

Medical film news, photography, and filmstrips also come in for treatment in the latest issue of "Film News" which is on the AV shelf at the local library. Ask for it.

And don't forget to save 7.30 to 8 Wednesday night, Nov. 30, for "Children in Trouble" and "Families First."

The program was different than anything the unit had had before and was most interesting.

Mrs. Crowley was a devoted wife and mother, of cheerful disposition which endeared her to a wide circle of friends. She was a past matron of Forget-me-not Chapter O.E.S. of South Thomaston. For the past four years she had been employed at Woodfords Restaurant, Portland. She is survived by her husband; son, Gordon Crowley; daughter, Mrs. Celia Hurtubise, all of Portland; two sisters, Jeannie McConchie of Portland and Mrs. John Stanton of Danvers, Mass.; and five grandchildren, Carmen, Roland, Gordon and Thomas Hurtubise and Susan Crowley.

Funeral services were held at Burpee Funeral Home and the Eastern Star services were also conducted. The floral display, beautiful and bountiful, evidenced the high esteem in which she was held. Interment was in Ash Point Cemetery.

Regrets Criticism

Another Musical Authority Gives Her Version Of the Bernette Concert

"Realm of Music" is a feature in The Courier-Gazette well written and enjoyed by many. There was a sense of disappointment however, in the write-up of the last concert, in-as-much as it did not reflect the general enthusiasm and appreciation of the audience as many felt it. Hence these remarks:

We are heartily in accord with the splendid press notices of Miss Bernette from centers all over North and South America and feel it was a rare privilege to have her give a performance in Rockland.

Miss Bernette held her audience from start to finish and responded very generously to many recalls at the conclusion of a long program—and most interesting evening.

Some of the remarks from the audience are as follows:

"Completely satisfying interpretations."

"I have studied all but two of her selections. She didn't miss a trick."

"Splendid program selection though perhaps leaning to the highly classical."

"An amazing technique which at no point dominated her musical idea."

"A charming presence."

"A highly intelligent and sensitive personality of great charm."

"I haven't been to a concert in 25 years. It made me feel ten years younger."

The rapt attention and splendid conduct of the many young people in the audience is worthy of consideration.

We are indebted also to W. Sistaire, New England manager, for his excellent recommendations of talent available to our budget. In the last five years we have heard such artists as Mona Paulee, Charles Kuhlman, the Don Cossacks, De Paul Chorus, David Lloyd, Carolyn Long, San Roma, Jan Sebastian, Jean Watson and others.

A word of praise to the splendid effort of the Concert Committees and its members, for the outstanding work they are accomplishing, in keeping alive the cultural interest in this community, is to the point.

Reactions to a concert are as varied as the people who attend. It would seem important in this world of woe, to appreciate the positive aspects of gracious living. Emerson said for us "We must be as courteous to a man as we are to a picture, which we are willing to give the advantage of a good light."

ROCKLAND GRADE SCHOOLS

Grade 2, Mrs. McLellan
Mary Carr and Caroline Chatto celebrated joint birthdays at school November 2. The "Happy Birthday" song was sung and the toy cake was lighted. Each child decorated his own paper birthday cake.

Lois Duncan brought an attractive plant for our plant shelf.

An interesting art lesson with a real purpose was taught by Miss Hutchins recently. The attractive colored baskets made by the class were used as favors at the County Teachers' Convention November 10.

Recent leaders for our morning exercises were: Gloria Fields, Sandra Rytik, Brian Butler and Kathryn Argyle.

William Oliver, Alice Philbrook and Lorraine Robertson are the room helpers for this week.

William Oliver brought an interesting puzzle of farm animals. We enjoyed putting it together.

Grade 3, Miss Gordon
The third grade was very happy to have a part in making nut baskets for the Knox County Convention. They were made during Miss Hutchins' art period. Elizabeth Sulides had a colored poster chosen for the bulletin board display in the hall during National Art Week.

Our room helpers this week are Ralph Rackliff, Priscilla Smith, and Delores Kaler.

Leo Chase and Robert Kaler have made a built up panel Indian poster this week. It is colorful and well done. Ronald Murray and Robert Achorn are working on one showing Indians making blanket designs.

Neil Hoffes made a cut-out Indian poster of original design.

We dramatized an Indian story during our language period today. The parts were taken by Dorothy Childs, Earlene Sayward, Woodbury Post, Robert Hunt and Sandra Sylvester. Verna Studley, Janice Phillips, and David Craig are on a committee to plan our Book Week activities.

Grade 3, Miss Kimball
Steven Crocker is now attending Clark's Island Grammar School.

Victor Daniello and Joseph Terrio are now back at school after having mumps.

Joanne Grispi recently brought two beautiful dolls dressed in the costumes of France and Belgium.

A tool chest was brought to class and the various tools were discussed by Holman Davis.

Regina Hyland has already brought attractive Thanksgiving decorations

Our Indian unit has been completed. Booklets were made in penmanship classes. The covers were decorated in crayon. Colorful cut paper posters showing Indian life were made. Fred Ripley dug clay and demonstrated the making of a clay bowl. On our display table were articles from Indian Island in Old Town. Thomas Rytik, Fred Ripley, Donald Smith, and Douglas Molloy contributed to this display. Miss Sleeper loaned us some pottery of the Southwestern Indians.

Paul Waltz brought a real jack-o-lantern for our Halloween party. A committee of three chose the costume winners. Regina Hyland won the prize for the prettiest and Fred Ripley for the funniest. Flavia Billings, dressed as a witch, read fortunes for each child. Our room was represented by Donald Smith and Ernest Watling in the group picture. We especially wish to thank Mrs. Leola Hyland and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith who provided surprise refreshments for us.

Tyler School
Tuesday was visitation day at the Tyler School in connection with the National Education Week activities.

Parents and friends visited the various classes during the afternoon and remained to a tea and social hour arranged by the Tyler teachers at the close of school. Mrs. Addie Rogers poured from an attractively appointed table. The teachers were assisted by P.T.A. mothers: Mrs. Alma Dow, Mrs. Josephine Sulin, Mrs. Gladys Little and Mrs. Lucy Suomela. During the week there were 54 parents and friends who visited classes in the Tyler School.

Grade 1—Miss Teeney
The children are making animal picture books for science. Many of the children have brought stuffed animals for an exhibit.

Much interest has been taken in dramatizations of favorite stories. One child tells the story and then acts as coach to the children participating in the play.

Grade 1—Miss Webster
Alice Cole and Pamela Harrington celebrated their birthdays recently. They drew and colored pretty cakes.

Ten mothers visited us during Education Week. Mrs. Carr, our last year's sub primary teacher, was also a visitor.

On Wednesday the children enjoyed having a parade. Each carried a small flag. They marched around the school grounds singing "Dear Flag of Our America."

Grade 2—Mrs. Rogers
Halloween afternoon, Bonnie Rackliff and Barry Ellis surprised their class with a party. Delicious refreshments, in keeping with the day were served by the young host and hostess, assisted by their teacher. Many thanks to Bonnie and Barry.

The November birthday celebrations are those of: Daniel Davey, Bonnie Rackliff, Brian Smallwood, Carol Cross, June Willis, Nancy Spaulding and Warren Peterson. The drawings which Miss Hutchins chose to display in the hall, in observance of National Art Week, were those of Bonnie Billings, David Gamage and Helen Larrabee.

At an assembly on the fourth of November, the second grade entertained by presenting the following program with Bonnie Rackliff as the announcer:

All members of the class participated in the opening exercises. Patriotic recitations were rendered by Carole Cummings, David Gamage, Robert Flanders and Kenneth Nolan. Gloria Colpritt gave "Dear Flag" as a solo. "The Land For You and Me" was rendered by Judith Brackett, June Willis, Carol Sulin and Aloha Athearn.

A health playlet was well presented by Carol Cross, Barry Ellis, Bonnie Billings, Jacqueline Rapose, Rebecca Dow, Linda Linscott and Carol Griffith.

Three girls have entered our class recently. Nancy Spaulding came from Topsfield, Mass. Pearl Flaherty transferred from Millbrook, Maine, while Geraldine Crowley moved from the South School.

Our guests during National Education Week were: Mrs. William Cummings, Mrs. Donald Cummings, Mrs. Edward Sylvester, Mrs. Elmer Pinkham, Mrs. Alma Dow, Mrs. Josephine Sulin, Mrs. Letha Athearn, Mrs. P. L. Havener, Mrs. Austin Billings, Mrs. Amelia Gray, Mrs. Evelyn Peterson, Mrs. Weston Gamage and Mrs. Charles Rowling.

Grade 3—Mrs. Walker
Opening exercises last week were conducted by Priscilla Curtis, Rose Ann Small, Richard Cummings, Mary Soule and Hazel Wooster.

Mary Cole and Alan Korpinen are making plans for the school assembly program for Friday in observance of Thanksgiving Day.

Those that have had perfect attendance so far this year are: Albert Colson, Richard Cummings, Beverly Dorr, Maud Nolan, Mary Rowling, Neil Smith, Howard Woodbury and Hazel Wooster.

The group in social science studies is making plans for exploring our community. The general chairman is Mary Cole. The group leaders are Algie Mazzeo, Richard Cummings and Mary Soule.

Grade 4—Mrs. MacDougal
Mary Doak, Bertha Smith, Patricia Kirk and Mary Kirk have returned to school after being absent because of the mumps. Donna Smallwood is still absent because of them.

Red berries and pine make a very attractive bouquet on our piano. They were given to us by Richard Cummings, a third grade pupil.

Thanksgiving baskets have been originally decorated and filled with colorful fruit. They add very much to the brightness of our room.

We were very pleased to take part in the Parent-Teachers' Association Council meeting held recently at the High School. A Doll Show was put on by Judith Savoy, Alice Lord, Barbara Day, Janice Black, Patricia Kirk, Florence Withee and Rose Marie Snowdeal. A vocal solo, by Richard Mitchell, dressed in an Uncle Sam's costume, was part of the program.

National Book Week has been observed in several ways. A trip to the Public Library where Miss Rogers, librarian, showed us around and explained the various rooms to us was very worth while. A parade of "favorite books from home" was held one day and large posters showing each child's favorite book are displayed about the room. In connection with our "Visit To Belgian Congo" study, several interesting activities have been carried on. Florence Withee, Barbara Day, Janice Black and Rose Marie Snowdeal arranged a very clever display of a Belgian Congo village on a table. Alice Lord was chairman of a group that arranged a radio interview program. Alonzo Dorr was chairman of a group of newspaper cameramen. Richard Mitchell was in charge of a group that planned a dramatization showing "The Hunter's Return." Frances Larrabee, Joyce Flanders and Bertie Small compiled a list of new Belgian Congo words. Large pictures showing a particular Belgian Congo scene were drawn by Gloria Olson, Mellisande Dodge, Mary Ann Winesbach and Alonzo Dorr.

Grade 5—Mrs. Hall
Charles Staples is drawing a huge map of the United States for us. Hervey Colson and Joseph Nye are drawing Pilgrim posters.

Judy Pease cannot eat pickles for at least a week. Every child in the class feels sad, as Judy is very popular with her classmates.

Deer jumping through windows have nothing on the fifth grade. We entertained a very well behaved deer last Wednesday afternoon. It will probably become a great pet in our room after Thanksgiving. It belongs to Ronald Belyea.

Wayne Fifield brought two interesting books to us for Book Week. One was a book of Indian stories while the other contained poems of Longfellow.

Mabel Johnson has returned to school after a week of not eating pickles.

Barbara Trenholm has returned to school after being a patient of Dr. Hill in Waterville.

A fireplace was built for us by Hervey Colson and Clyde Sewall.

A boat was built by Joseph Nye and Charles Staples with the assistance of our genial janitor, Mr. Webber.

Many of our children have their costumes planned. Mothers and Dads, we are expecting you to attend our Thanksgiving Program. Save an afternoon for Grade 5, Tyler School.

Plymouth Rock has arrived and the date says 1620. Who will be our Mary Chilton? She was first to step from a boat to Plymouth Rock, so history claims.

Benner Hill School—Mrs. Nelson
We were pleased to have many parents visit school during National Education Week.

Leaf booklets have been completed by grade four. They consist of pressed and mounted leaves gathered in the vicinity of the school.

"Dumbo Of the Circus" is the title of a new book on our reading table. There is also a magazine, "Jack and Jill," brought by Betty Conway.

Jeanne Call is the leader of opening exercises for this week.

A Halloween party was enjoyed by all the children. John Stratton contributed to the party by presenting us with a decorated Halloween cake.

SAYS SHE WOULDN'T SWAP

But Read Janet Henry's Letter and See What You Think About It

Many readers of the Portland and Boston papers have been following with interest the columns written by Doris Flesoon and May Craig of their travels and impressions in the Far East. The following matter may add local interest, coming as it does to a friend at home from a Thomaston girl who left in late Summer to take a teaching position in Okinawa.

Life on Okinawa is wonderful and I'm so glad I could come. I would not trade places with anyone back in the States. Our trip over was grand! It was rather thrilling when we left San Francisco. The band was playing and a huge crowd was around; the whistles blew and all kinds of streamers were flying. To some it was sad, but I was so excited that I didn't feel that way at all.

The trip across was very smooth. I'd like to have had a little rougher time. There were 10 on our cabin, all teachers, and a good bunch. The food was excellent and there was entertainment, such as bridge games, movies every night, bingo, and just plain sitting on deck. We saw many flying fishes, a whale, and porpoises. No land until we arrived here Aug. 31. That morning I had to have some more shots and was afraid I'd be sick but none of them bothered me. Everyone was on deck waiting to get in to White Beach. The planes circled around, then two ships came out and guided us in. The band was playing here too. It was beautiful with all the different shades of green, and the sky's blue is so different from ours.

We finally landed and ground really felt good. A bus took us to lunch and then they brought us to the Women's Compound. There are about 250 women living here, all in Quonset huts. It is surrounded by barbed wire and we have guards day and night. The China Sea is on one side and the Pacific on the other. You should see the sunsets. Words just can't describe them.

Each hut has five bedrooms and a living room. The rooms have bamboo beds (very hard), chair, desk, bureau, and drying closet. In the living room we have an electric refrigerator, table, divan, (bamboo, too), chairs, and telephone which doesn't work. The last typhoon destroyed all the wires. We have to go to another hut for showers, etc., and it has been only a short time that we have had any hot water. The boilers were destroyed by "Gloria." She's the big typhoon.

We have to sleep under nets all the time because the malaria rate is very high; they also keep rats and other creatures. We have lizards crawling around all the time. At first I was scared to death of them but after watching them catch bugs I've called them friends.

The water is very bad here. We must boil or use halazone tablets all the time. As there is no way to boil it the tablets have to go into it and they taste and smell terrible.

We travel by jeep and busses. There are not many cars here. The roads are very rough and dusty and I can see why people leave cars behind.

If we go out after 6 o'clock we must sign the time, with whom we are going and where. The escort must carry a gun and we have to go to the gate to meet him. No men can come in here. We must be in at 1:30 as all vehicles have to be off the roads from 2 to 5 p. m. It's plenty late enough for me though.

I have a wonderful maid—Okinawan—speaks no English so I write notes on my clothes and she takes them to the office to be read. She makes the bed, sweeps, irons perfectly and even mends, and keeps my bureau drawers picked up. All of this for $4 per month.

The natives are friendly and cause no trouble at all. Their villages are all marked off limits, so we can't go into them without a pass. We cannot eat any food from them either.

For recreation, we have movies, bingo, and dancing at the clubs almost every night. There are some nice beaches around too. I have been to Ishikawa Beach and it is beautiful. The water is far too warm to be refreshing, however. I have already been to Suicide Cliff down in the Southern part and Edmen village or market. I was glad to get out of them.

Red heads and freckles are not seen here very often. I'll bet every Okie came up and patted and pulled my hair to see whether it were real. They rubbed my arms to see, of they could, what freckles were like. I couldn't get back home fast enough to get their dirt and smell washed off.

The women are hard workers. They carry everything on their heads. They are very dark skinned. The babies are well taken care of. They strap them on their backs and work in the fields that way. The babies wear very few clothes from the waist up. The Okies raise rice, sweet potatoes, sugar, banana, melons, and that's all I've seen so far. They live mostly on fish and rice.

Our school started Sept. 8. It was completely ruined in Gloria. We begin at 8:30 and may leave at 4:15, a very long day and I am all in at night. My room is an old mess hall. The floor wobbles every time anyone walks. No lights, very little ventilation, and no blackboards—mostly children. I'm not allowed to give numbers so can't tell you how many in the school. All the children come by bus and it is a job to see that they are all on the right one at night. We are teaching Saturdays to make up for the lost time and we all hate it. It's too hot and too many hours for little kids. I have the first grade and feel like a fish out of water. Thank goodness I have had one year doing it before.

From the papers scattered on my desk I should say I have written enough for this time. Do write when you have time. Letters are great things to get.

Janet Henry.
